

LEGISLATURE IS READY TO ADJOURN

Senate and House Plan to End
Extra Session on Monday.

WORK IS ABOUT COMPLETED

Constitutional Amendment Bill
Passes Final Reading, With Slight Changes.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
[Richmond, N. C., October 11.—The Senate and House have today completed the work of the extraordinary session on Monday. Ninety-two members of the House in a roll call this afternoon declared themselves to be here on Monday to assure a quorum to finish ratification of bills and round up the work of the session. The Senators are also pledged to be here Monday for a quorum. In fact, the pay for the session covers Monday, under the constitutional limitation, and this gives additional assurance of attendance for the closing ceremonies, which, at the regular sessions, are always held several days after the pay stops.

The Senate reconsidered the vote by which the intra-state freight bill was passed the Senate last night, to withdraw the amendment exempting from the operation of the act railroads that have constructed as much as twenty-five miles of the line without a single rate being really in the bill. It bore out his contention on the floor last night, he said, that Senators, he and the rest, were passing something that they knew nothing whatever about.

The Senate put the corrected bill through its readings and ordered it enrolled for ratification. The constitutional amendment bill passed final reading with slight changes.

A notable amendment voted down was by Senator Wakefield to strike from the preamble to the Constitution the clause expressing thanks for preservation of the Union.

In the House Speaker Walter Murphy was presented with handsome silver water by the members of the House. The House adopted the report of the special committee to investigate the circumstances of the death of the late Senator William W. Battle, and placed it in the Eight Congressional District. The report found that Mr. Battle, knowing that his bill was intended to die, had introduced it in the House and had it passed in violation of confidence.

The Senate passed the bill to appropriate $50,000 for the State School for Feeble-Minded at Kinross, and a bill to appropriate $40,000 for various State institutions.

The North Carolina Senate discussed and passed yesterday the eleventh proposal to amend the Constitution as to taxation. There was discussion over the clause in the proposal that reads: "The General Assembly may, consistent with natural justice and equity, classify subjects of taxation, and all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of property within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, provided that no income shall be taxed when the property from which the income is derived is taxed, and consistent with natural justice and equity, the General Assembly may separate subjects of taxation for State and local purposes."

Senator Murphy offered an amendment to strike out all the paragraph within discussion, except that providing for separation of property for State and local taxation.

Senator Feeble proposed to put separate the questions of classification, exemptions and incomes from property taxed and segregation. He offered an amendment embodying this idea.

The discussion went on for two hours. In the end, all proposed amendments were voted down and the paragraph was adopted 29 to 10.

Proposal No. 12 is to substitute "War Between the States" for "rebellion," wherever it occurs in the Constitution, was adopted without discussion.

Proposal No. 13 was to provide, providing that no taxable educational, penal or reformatory corporations can be chartered by the Legislature; but the General Assembly shall provide general laws for chartering and organizing all corporations.

Proposal No. 14, making the public school terms six months instead of four months, was adopted.

The machinery for ratifying the amendment proposals at the polls was amended to change and almost without discussion.

The House passed a bill to give Superior Courts concurrent jurisdiction with the courts of record, and to give justices when these courts fail to try offenses, Superior Courts, however, may not take up cases until after ninety days, to give inferior courts ample time to prosecute.

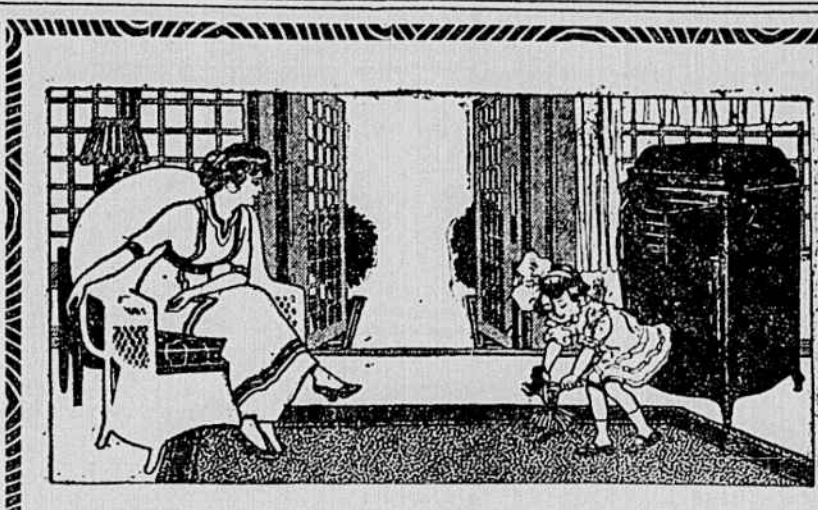

Bill passed giving to Wake, New Hanover, Carteret, Perquimans, Vance and Buncombe Counties to require all picture shows to have fire extinguishers and fireproof booths for operators.

Another bill passed to authorize a special sale of real estate under foreclosure of mortgage, so that the mortgagee might avail himself of an opportunity to get the best bid raised. The revenue act was amended so that the Auditor will settle with sheriffs as formerly.

And Still the Good Work Goes On

Had Rheumatism and a Severe Stomach Trouble, But Read What He Says.

The only real way to learn whether or not Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm are making all the local cures that are put out is to visit Tragle's and listen to the reports of the people who have used the remedies and learn what Quaker Extract will do in your own case. Here is a report of a man living in this city who had rheumatism and stomach trouble for a long time. The pains were at times almost unbearable. When he rose in the mornings he felt more tired and stiff than before he retired. He would have a nauseated feeling, and his appetite was changeable. Headaches were frequent and pains in his stomach, sides and back kept him in misery. His limbs ached nearly all the time, and a dizziness at times assailed him.

A Victrola in the Home Makes Every One Happy

It is a source of endless pleasure to the entire household. Always ready to play at any time for any member of the family, and the Victor repertoire includes every kind of music, song or hymn any one can desire.

Come to our store; the Victrola is ready to play for you whenever you call. Will gladly demonstrate the different styles and explain our easy-payment plan.

We carry at all times a complete stock of Victor Records.

Victors $10 to $100
Victor-Victrolas $15 to $300

Walter D. Moses & Co.,

103 East Broad Street.
Oldest Music House in Virginia and North Carolina.

DO NOT SEND IN YOUR SET OF ANSWERS BEFORE OCTOBER 27

If You Do It Will Be Returned to You Immediately.

The seventy-seventh and last Book-Lovers' Contest picture appeared yesterday, October 11.

Contestants are granted, however, to P. M. of Saturday, October 25, to supply themselves with whatever contest helps they may desire—pictures, Answer Books or catalogues. Employ the time to October 25 in finishing the solving of pictures, and in doing ever your answers carefully to make sure you are submitting your best efforts.

Originally it was planned to give a shorter space of time for contestants to finish solving the pictures, and secure all the contest helps they may need, but in response to many requests, principally contestants living out of town, the space has been made two full weeks.

Beginning with Monday, October 27, contestants may start sending or bringing in their sets, and all sets must be in the Times-Dispatch office by 6 P. M. Saturday, November 1. Sets received later than 6 P. M. of November 1 will be accepted, provided they are postmarked previous to 6 P. M. of November 1. Thus a contestant living quite a distance from Richmond may mail his set on Saturday, November 1, and still it will be accepted, even though it arrives at the office two or three days later. But be sure the set is presented at the post-office in time to be postmarked on November 1.

Hold fast to these dates, and, above all, do not send in your set before October 27. All sets sent in before that time will be refused!

After the evidence of progress noted by Mr. Stearnes was a large meeting of patrons and pupils which he attended, and decided that the school revenue from all sources was reported to amount to over $1,800. The ambitious program outlined by the school board called for an annual expenditure of $4,000. The school is being perfected to raise the difference from private sources, and the school has been opened with a large enrollment of about 100 pupils.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS MAKING PROGRESS

Superintendent Stearnes Completes Trip Through Many Counties in State.

ALL OPENED SUCCESSFULLY

Determined Effort Being Made to Widen Opportunities for Young People.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, R. C. Stearnes has just returned from an extensive swing around the State, visiting schools in almost every section. He reports that the schools have opened for the new term very successfully, and that the prospect for this session is most encouraging. For the first time in the history of the State, there is a sufficient supply of white teachers for white schools, and the department is looking forward to the time when lower-grade certificates can be eliminated. Mr. Stearnes attended a meeting of the division superintendents, held in Radford, when the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the position of division superintendent is a man's full work. No other occupation should or will be undertaken during this term of office. The visiting of the schools in full measure than heretofore is a most crying need, perhaps the need of the hour. Each superintendent will be expected to spend three-fourths of his time in the field, meeting teachers, patrons and pupils in school and at their homes."

In some of the counties arrangements have recently been made to aid division superintendents by the appointment of supervising teachers, usually persons trained in particular branches of instruction, to visit the schools. Rockingham County has engaged a special supervisor trained in industrial work, and another assistant will probably be needed to look after the school work of the county.

Southampton County has under consideration the employment of a supervising teacher in industrial branches in each district. Pittsylvania County also has this matter under consideration.

Among the evidences of progress noted by Mr. Stearnes was a large meeting of patrons and pupils which he attended, and decided that the school revenue from all sources was reported to amount to over $1,800. The ambitious program outlined by the school board called for an annual expenditure of $4,000. The school is being perfected to raise the difference from private sources, and the school has been opened with a large enrollment of about 100 pupils.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

At Oakton, in Fairfax County, Mr. Stearnes found that a model new building had been erected at a cost of $10,000, the local levy having raised $2,000. He attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors in King and Queen County at which members of the school board had been invited to see the new building, and to see the school building in the school building, and to see the school building in the school building.

TO THE WOMAN WHO HAS $15.00 TO PAY FOR HER FALL SUIT

Some one came to the garment buyer early last week with a suggestion of this sort: "Why don't you prepare something special for next week's selling?" The buyer's reply is ready—here in the form of these stunning Tailored Suits at $15.00

Each suit was made with the idea of giving better style, better fabrics and better all-around value for the money than we have ever given. Latest cutaway coats, with guaranteed lining, draped skirts.

Exclusively designed Suits for women at $19.50

Really made to sell for $30.00. Materials are high-class diagonals, unfinished worsteds, Wales, volles and imported serges. They are especially smart in fabric and finish, as well as chic in style.

What Do You Think of These Sport Coats?

Women's and Misses' $15.00 Coats for $10.00

Coats were never so pretty and fashionable as these Sport Coats, and every woman should by all means possess one. Materials are boucles, zibelines and rough English cloths, plain colors and stripes, wide belt and patch pockets.

Attractive Designs in Ladies' Dresses

Ranging in prices from $5.00 to $10.00, with special mention of the grades at $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.50 and so on. $15.00

Whether for house wear or in the more elaborate costume effects, each grade presents new models and new details, in charmeuse, silk, poplin, chion and serge, artistically draped and trimmed. Original creations of the best designing minds and with the most perfect execution.

Boys' New Fall Norfolk Suits

Made in the new Bulgarian style, in tan, gray and brown effects; trousers full peg and lined throughout; sizes 6 to 18, $6.00.

Special—Blue Serge Norfolk Suit, $10.00 value, $7.50; coat hand tailored and trousers cut full peg.

A Good, Tough Norfolk Suit, in tan, gray and brown materials; just the thing for school wear, $3.50 and $4.00; regular $5.00 value; sizes 8 to 18.

Boys' Long Belted Overcoats, made with shawl and convertible collars, in neat gray and tan herringbone effects; sizes 10 to 18 years, $5.00 to $12.00.

The new shape Tyrolean and Millionaire Hats for boys and girls, in black velvet, shepherd's plaid trimmed, blue and tan corduroy, and other materials; sizes 6-18 to 7, 50c to $3.50.

Boys' $7.50 Russian and Sailor Blouses, in blue serge, tan and gray mixture, $4.05; sizes 2 1/2 to 12.

NOTA SEME HOSIERY

For Children.

The E. J. Union Suit for children, in made with buttons to fasten the trousers on to; ages 2 to 14 years, 50c.

News of Petersburg